2022 Report of the IUCN Species Survival Commission and Secretariat

To accomplish those targets, the Species Conservation Cycle was established, which is the conceptual framework for the Network activities. The Species Conservation Cycle's Stand-alone reports summarize the activities conducted and results generated by each group member of the SSC. Following, is the structure of the stand-alone report and the contents under each session.

Mission statement

The mission of the IUCN SSC Penguin Specialist Group (PSG) is to provide scientific advice that informs policy and engages people in effective conservation action.

Projected impact 2021–2025

The disconcerting and rapid population decreases reported for most of the world's penguin species will be reversed only through immediate and affirmative action on the part of the global community of researchers, governmental entities, conservation organisations, agencies managers, and the general public. If we address the identified threats, undertake priority research needs using an interdisciplinary and integrated approach, and begin to implement appropriate conservation actions, management could perhaps slow or stop the observed decreases in penguin populations. We wish to call attention to the plight of this important and charismatic taxonomic group, whose dire situation is a clear reflection of the current escalating crisis facing the world's marine ecosystems and as indicators of future global warming scenarios. To improve the conservation status of penguin species we will: (1) identify the need for management actions and/or studies for particular species, critical areas, or threats to penguins; (2) provide scientific advice on conservation and management issues concerning penguins to interested parties; (3) coordinate input from penguin experts for the IUCN Red List assessments, and (4) facilitate dissemination of scientific information concerning penguins, including supporting publications and regional and international meetings.
