Mission statement

As a member of the IUCN SSC, the Asian Species Action Partnership (ASAP) is committed to:

Projected impact 2021–2025

The Asian Species Action Partnership (ASAP) is a multi-agency partnership of IUCN SSC members and other organizations. It is committed to the conservation of Asian species and their habitats. The partnership is currently working on several projects, including the development of a regional action plan for the conservation of Asian species. The partnership is also working to improve the capacity of its members and to promote the conservation of Asian species in the public domain. The partnership is committed to the following objectives:

- To develop and implement a regional action plan for the conservation of Asian species.
- To improve the capacity of its members and to promote the conservation of Asian species in the public domain.
- To work with governments and other organizations to improve the conservation of Asian species.
- To promote the conservation of Asian species in the public domain.
