

Animal Biobanking for Conservation Specialist Group

Oliver A. Ryder, Chair

Boripat Siriaroonrat, Co-Chair

The Animal Biobanking for Conservation Specialist Group (ABC SG), of the International establish facilities to preserve viable cells and tissues for biodiversity characterization and conservation.

The successful applicant will join the SG Co-Chairs in developing the global network and will contribute to strategic growth of the SG in its multidisciplinary and global context. The person filling this position will be responsible for the development and implementation of ABC SG's communications, within the SG and external to the SG.

The primary role in ABC SG's member communications; report-writing and publications; social media management; and, communications support. The position may involve some domestic and international travel. The position may involve some domestic and international travel.

and with the Co-Chair in the ITC Time Zone (UTC+7).

-8)

Interested in applying?

Please send the following materials to khasegawa@sdzwa.org

A cover letter;

Your curriculum vitae (CV); and

A document, in English, of which you are the main author, that demonstrates your writing skills.