

Development of the National Ecological Network of Moldova as part of the Pan-European Ecological Network, with emphasis on transboundary cooperation

Moldova is situated in the central part of Europe within the Black Sea north-western region. Landscapes are heavily transformed due to agricultural expansion and dense rural population: agricultural area comprises 73% of the territory.

